

South Russell Police Department At-Risk Resident Platform

The At-Risk Resident Platform is a voluntary registry to provide detailed information about family members experiencing physical, mental, and emotional diseases, conditions, or impairments.

Our officers can access these personal profiles in real-time, becoming aware of unique specifics to deliver better service during regular contacts and crisis events.

Common examples of At-Risk members are people who are hearing-impaired/deaf, visually impaired/blind, as well as persons with Autism Spectrum Disorder.

It's important to stress that diseases, conditions, and impairments are not what classify persons as At-Risk. Rather, it's the information gap between these residents and first responders that creates opportunity for ineffective communication.

This cooperative effort between South Russell Police Department and our residents helps ensure every person receives service considerate of his or her needs.

How to Sign Up!

1. Go to the Village of South Russell's website, at www.southernrussell.com.

@southrussellpd

"This program leverages information sharing, technology, and trust to further connect South Russell Police Department and the great community we serve. The design of the At-Risk Resident Platform allows our officers to intentionally build relationships with these members in everyday life, while also providing a resilient foundation for crisis events. For first responders, it's so incredibly important to meet people where their needs are during a challenging situation. The At-Risk Resident Platform charts a course to ensure each person in the Village of South Russell and Chagrin Falls Exempted Village Schools receives that level of service. We're thankful for your support and can't wait to meet you and your families."
